Haywood County Schools – Riverbend Elementary School Closed Tuesday, September 12, 2017

Haywood County, North Carolina – September 12, 2017

Riverbend Elementary is closed for Tuesday, September 12, 2017. This morning as school was preparing to open, school officials discovered the school did not have water. After school officials conferred with water district officials, it was determined that there was a water line break near the school.

This closing only impacts Riverbend Elementary School. All other schools will operate on a Two Hour Delay schedule. The school will notify Riverbend parents and students about provisions for making up the missed school time after the water line is repaired.
